Huy,

Thank you for your email. As you note, pursuant to the first paragraph of the “both classes” Permanent Injunction, the bond procedures required by the Declaration are already in effect. There is no basis to extend the effective date of those procedures after it has already passed.

If this is how you choose to proceed, please indicate our opposition to your motion in its entirety.

Regards,
Dan McFadden

Hi Dan,

Thanks for the phone call earlier today. On second thought, we will indeed be moving to extend the first paragraph of the perm injunction (both classes) as well. I understand that it is already in effect but we will still be moving forward with our request. I further understand that you have already objected to this over the phone.

Thank you.
